Since 1996 Displaycom has provided a range of services to the event and retail industries. Our philosophy is to evolve branded environments which, whether a small and simple as a banner stand, or as large and complex as an entire pavilion, will optimise the customers sensory interaction with the sales and marketing process. Brand penetration is driven by aesthetics and engagement. Our hallmark is a profound attention to the client's specific needs and to the details of each job. Creative dialogue progresses to hand sketches then 3D computer images, whose innovative quality is a strong feature of the company. At our factory these are transformed into the finished product. Each stage undergoes technical and inspirational review.

We build a wide variety of products which include customized exhibits, permanent points of sale, road shows and corporate boxes. Whatever the size of the job we move together with the client and offer reliable and after hours accessibility. We take up your goals and interact as part of a unified team.
